

THE LOUVRE
1115-1117 F STREET

Open until 6 P.M. Daily.

The Shop That Serves With Individual Consideration.

We reflect in our showcases the truest fashions of the hour—extreme as any taste can demand; and as conservative as you choose. But always correct; always exclusive; always of highest grade; and always moderately priced.

Suits

We are showing many interpretations of the newest straight-line models—with arrivals daily multiplying the assortment; produced in the novelty and staple weaves—in Navy Blue, Black and all the colors that are favorites this spring.

Lots of the Ripple Suits that are so distinctive and so decidedly popular with the Misses. Every day brings new effects.

$29.50—$35—$40—to—$85.

Dresses

Of course, Serges galore—and Gabardines, Poret Twills, Tricotines—and Jerseys—that are so smart and at the same time so thoroughly practical.

Among the models are many exclusive effects.

All colors—and all sizes.

$25—$30—$35—$40—to—$50.

Blouses

Mannish Waists, in tailored effects—Cotton, Silk and Georgette. A splendid variety for selection—and values you'll concede are unusual at $1.95—$2.50—$3.75—$5.75—$10.

Elaborately fancy Blouses—in dressy designs and in consistent colorings. Exclusive models—all of them.

$5.75—$7.50—$8.50—to—$12.50.

Both the accuracy of fit and integrity of materials and make are guaranteed.

Erlebacher's
High Grade—Not High Priced

"Let Us See What's New at Erlebacher's"

That is getting to be a popular expression with the best dressed women of Washington, as they know that Mrs. Erlebacher's weekly trips to New York mean something new and worth while all the time. It will be to your advantage to visit our suit department this week and note the distinctive-ness and originality shown in our

$25, $35 and $40 Suits

Smart Spring Millinery Models

The hat section on the third floor is aglow with new glories of Paris millinery. A glimpse will convince you that we have the most fascinating and becoming models shown.

Attractively priced,

$10, $12.50, $15

1210 F Street N.W.

The House of Quality.

Mayer Bros. & Co.'s Spring Fashion Week

Offering at special prices high-class exclusive models in suits, coats, dresses, skirts, blouses, millinery.

Great Suit Buying This Week at

$25 $35 $39

A complete showing of spring's hand-somest novelties, fine serges, poplins, gabardines, tweeds, jerseys.

All correct new shades and every size for women and misses.

Fashion Week Blouse Special, $2.50

A wonderful showing of fine voiles with colored linen collar and cuffs, also smart stripes. All sizes. Main floor.

Fashion Week Trimmed Hat Offerings $6.50 $7.50 $10 $12.50 Up

At each price a showing bound to add to our fame for exclusive and beautiful millinery. Every one is enthusiastic about our great display. Main floor.

Mayer Bros. & Co.
937-939 F St. N.W. No Branch Stores

Society
(Continued From Eighth Page.)

necklaces and bangles to lighten the effect.

Mrs. Ffolke-Smith wore a very effective Spanish costume of white satin with a black sash.

The Misses Margaret and Adelaide Tuttle and the Misses Mary and Elizabeth Cumming wore charming French maids in rather short black silk dresses with lace-trimmed collars, cuffs and aprons.

Mrs. Richard Harlow, gray satin.

Mrs. Henry Leonard, sapphire blue velvet with tulle draperies.

Miss Louise Thayer, an empire gown of white satin.

Mrs. Samuel P. Picklen, as Carmen, wore a beautiful costume of red satin veiled in black lace, with a black lace mantilla.

Miss Bayvette Ficklen went as a colonial lady in a lovely costume of peach-colored moire taffeta, with a tiny bodice and full skirt made in panier fashion.

Miss Margaret Curry wore a gown of green chiffon.

Miss Catherine Harlow, Miss Louise Delage, Miss Lydia Chapin and Miss Lillian Wray formed a very effective group in their French student costumes, consisting of long blue smocks, black trousers and black tam-o'-shanters.

Miss Mary Hill wore a green satin and tulle gown.

Miss Jean Rayner, a Japanese costume of blue and white.

Mrs. Thomas Blagden wore a pierrette costume, with a fascinating white wig.

Princess Ghika wore a stunning gown of cloth of silver, veiled in salmon-colored tulle.

Mrs. Jay E. Hoffer wore a lovely gown of black chiffon velvet, trimmed with rhinestones.

Miss Helen Hoffer wore an effective costume of blue tulle, with silver trimming.

Mr. Preston Davis, a monk.

Mrs. Preston Davis, a French artist's costume of black velvet and blue satin.

Mrs. Sherman wore a beautiful costume of black chiffon velvet.

Mrs. Clarence K. Edwards wore a stunning gown of black velvet.

Miss Bessie Edwards wore a lovely Watteau shepherdess, in a costume of pink satin, with a quilted petticoat and white wig.

Miss Mary Temple, a handsome gown of flesh-colored satin combined with blue and gold, and jet passementerie and diamond ornaments.

Mrs. Walter Wells, a pierrette costume.

Mrs. John W. Falls of New York, in a blue tulle embroidered in self-colored sequins draped over pale pink satin.

Mrs. Frank Hight wore a handsome costume in the engineer colors, red and white. The gown was of satin in those colors and was laced up the side with red cord, terminating in tassels. She wore the triangle of the V. M. C. A. and her head was adorned with a small crown.

The costume was specially designed for her by the camoufleurs.

Mrs. and Mrs. Walter S. Penfield, in a lavender gown with silver lace and garlanded with rosebuds.

Mrs. Frank H. Hight of Omaha, Neb., a stunning gown of pink satin veiled in gray chiffon with the bodice formed of rhinestones.

Miss Edith Sims, midnight blue chiffon and silver lace.

Mrs. Robert Hinkley wore a picturesque Chinese costume of pale blue silk, richly embroidered.

Miss Gladys Hinkley also wore a Chinese costume of satin covered with embroidery.

Mrs. Hollister Sturges wore one of the most original and beautiful costumes seen, representing a flag ship, with the dress of green chiffon designed to give the effect of waves on the water, and her headpiece was a tiny ship with the flags of the allies flying from the masts.

Miss Flora Wilson wore a beautiful gown of dawn pink brocade.

Mrs. and Mrs. Florence Fox of Paris and Philadelphia, the latter wearing an imported gown with the bodice formed in wave design mounted over silver cloth.

Mrs. Charles K. Koonce, violet tulle over cloth of silver elaborately embroidered in silver.

Miss Edith Koonce, a charming gown of flesh-colored georgette crepe embroidered in silver and trimmed with silver lace.

Miss Edith Lester, wore turquoise blue satin incrustated with rhinestones.

Mrs. George Lawrence Wilkinson, Chicago, wore a stunning gown of white lace with the bodice of iridescent sequins, and a long train of pink and gold brocade tulle.

Miss Frances Wilkinson wore a beautiful gown of blue and green chiffon, with the bodice of satin and the flowing draperies of chiffon falling from the shoulders and girdled at the waist line with a scarf of varicolored silk. She wore a gold and blue head-dress with long gold earrings and necklaces and bracelets of beads.

Mrs. John W. Newman of Lexington, Ky., wore a stunning gown of white brocade.

Miss Morancy of Kentucky, pink satin with an overdress of pink tulle embroidered in silver.

Mrs. Thomas P. Logan made a charming Queen of Hearts in a bouffant costume of white tulle sewn with pendant hearts of red satin. The headpiece was very becoming, and was formed of red satin hearts in graduated sizes.

Miss and Mrs. William C. Harlow, the latter wearing lavender brocade satin trimmed with gold lace.

Mrs. Poe White, violet tulle, with touches of violet velvet.

Mrs. and Mrs. Gustavus T. Kirby, the latter wearing a Spanish costume of black satin, with a yellow shawl.

Mme. Riano in Brocade.

Mme. Riano wore a handsome gown of white brocade satin and tulle; Mrs. William C. Gorman, an effective gown of cerise velvet draped over white lace; Mrs. Victor Kaufmann, a stunning gown of white corded silk brocade in flame color draped white net, elaborately embroidered with iridescent sequins; Mrs. Randolph P. Claxton, a lovely gown of pale pink satin; Senator and Mrs. Robert L. Owen, the latter in a costume of black tulle and satin, with a tall black feather head-dress; Mrs. T. Gaff, peacock green and gold brocade; Mrs. Charles B. Howry, black net embroidered in gold medallions; Senator and Mrs. Claude Swanson, the latter in an effective gown of black net over cloth of gold, with a black net of gobelin-blue velvet; Mrs. Horace G. MacFarland, a beautiful gown of iridescent sequins and a pale blue ostrich feather fan; Senator and Mrs. Salsbury, the latter in a handsome gown of sapphire blue net embroidered in fan-shaped panels of blue sequins over silver cloth; Mr. and Mme. de Mohrenschildt, the latter in smoke-colored tulle, with girde of brilliant and bandeau of diamonds; Lady Lister-Kaye, black satin, with overdress of black and white tulle; Mrs. Robert Roosevelt, white satin and tulle.

Miss Joan Ohl, in ruffled cerise tulle and cerise cap, trimmed with cockades and the neck and sleeves outlined with blue, white and red.

Senator and Mrs. Peter Gerry, the latter in a stunning costume of iridescent sequin white chiffon fashioned with a close-fitting bodice with brilliant shoulder straps and a loose panel at the back hanging from the shoulders. With this she wore a long diamond chain and tiara.

Mrs. Frank B. Noyes, a handsome gown of gray and silver brocade.

Mrs. and Mrs. John W. Davis, the latter wearing peacock blue chiffon, velvet and tulle.

Miss Basrel, pale blue satin and tulle.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Wazgman, the latter wearing gold brocade tulle with sleeves of porcelain blue tulle.

Mrs. Leland Stanford Connors, in midnight blue, beaded in iridescent blue and gold sequins, and a handsome white ostrich feather fan.

Miss Jane Hunt, in smoke blue chiffon velvet and tulle.

Capt. and Mrs. Edward Goring Bliss, the latter in slate blue tulle built over silver cloth.

Senator and Mrs. James W. Wadsworth, Jr., the latter wearing a scarlet velvet bodice, with a black velvet skirt and carrying a scarlet feather fan.

Miss Giffitt, orchid and lavender tulle over white satin.

Miss Ramona Lefevre, an effective Spanish costume with black bodice and skirt of orchid satin finished with a deep dounce of white lace trimmed with black velvet bands and a large Spanish comb and a rose in her hair.

Miss Margaret McChord and Mrs. Howard Hume, as Red Cross nurses, in white gowns and veils trimmed with red crosses.

Mrs. James Carroll Fraser, a stunning gown of salmon pink satin brocade in gold.

Mrs. Albert Billings Ruddock, a beautiful gown of orchid tulle, trimmed with brilliant.

Miss Nellie Wilson, emerald green velvet cut on Grecian lines and finished with a silver cord girdle.

Mrs. William Strother Smith, a handsome costume of gold cloth, with bodice of gold tissue with oriental embroidery.

Mrs. James R. Mann wore a stunning gown of white charmeuse trimmed with iridescent sequins.

Mrs. and Mrs. Walter Tuckerman, the latter wearing a colonial costume of black satin and lace, with a white wig.

Mrs. Breckinridge Long, pink and silver brocade.

Miss Mattie, sapphire blue velvet and tulle.

Mrs. William Haywood, violet tulle.

Mrs. Fred A. Britten, cerise velvet, with a large ostrich feather fan of the same color.

Mrs. John Cameron Hawkins, rose-colored velvet combined with marine blue tulle.

Mrs. Alice G. B. Ladd wore a kypsy costume of brilliant hue, with a becoming headpiece of red satin.

Mrs. Nellie Johnson wore a blue tulle gown, with blue birds sewn on. She wore a blue bird in her powdered hair.

Mrs. Perry Belmont wore an exquisite gown of rose pink brocade and tulle with pearl ornaments.

Miss Mary Patton, sapphire blue satin and tulle.

Miss Josephine Patten, blue and silver presentation of the colors to the 11th Regiment.

Mrs. Hugo Legare, gold embroidered tulle.

Mrs. Basile R. Howard wore a charming costume of midnight blue tulle sewn with silver stars, with a blue and silver headed headpiece.

Mrs. and Mrs. Rudolph Max Kaufmann, the latter wearing a beautiful costume, with a draped shawl of flowered grape.

Mrs. Willis was a Spanish grandee, in a black velvet costume embroidered in gold.

Mrs. and Mrs. Paul Bartlett, Mrs. Bartlett wearing a pale blue charmeuse gown with draped bodice.

Mrs. Joseph Letter wore a cloth of gold gown, with handsome diamond ornaments.

Mrs. D. Buchanan Merryman, American beauty velvet.

Mrs. and Mrs. Howard Hume, a Red Cross costume of white muslin, with the nurses' headpiece.

Miss Lena Hitchcock and Miss Katherine Hitchcock wore elaborate Chinese costumes of gold and silver covered with embroidery.

Mme. Felix Garziglia went as a Turkish doll, in a muslin and lace dress and cap.

Mrs. Morris Evans, black net over cloth of silver.

Mrs. Meta Evans, lavender taffeta and tulle.

Miss Virginia Le Seure, white satin with rhinestone trimming.

Miss Helen Le Seure, rose pink satin with silver sequins.

Miss Marie Sims wore a wonderful Indian costume of russet kid, with bead embroidery.

Mrs. Harold Walker, black velvet with a top of white tulle.

Miss Downing, pale pink tulle with sequin trimming.

Miss Mary B. Adams, mauve and silver brocade chiffon.

Miss Suzanne Chase, black tulle with a circle of narrow white, white charmeuse with insets of gold lace.

Miss Suzanne Chase, black tulle with a circle of narrow white, white charmeuse with insets of gold lace.

Miss Reeves Harris, black satin and tulle.

Miss Frances Carpenter wore an effective kypsy costume.

Miss Leslie Murray of New York wore a lovely gown of marine blue tulle.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles H. Hight, the latter wearing a handsome gown of pink chiffon with crystal embroidery.

Miss Cecile Barry, an American beauty gown, with an overdress of silver net.

Mrs. Ashton Todd was in a black lace gown over lavender satin, with diamond ornaments.

Miss Irene McGuire, an Egyptian costume of silver cloth.

Miss Margaret Shedy of Denver, Col., black net over cloth of silver.

Miss Martha Fitzpatrick wore a beautiful gown of iridescent charmeuse embroidered in pearls.

Mrs. Henry Churchill Cook, blue brocade satin combined with black velvet and trimmed with duchess point lace.

Among others present were: Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Noyes, Miss Claire Ellsworth of New York, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker, Mrs. Mabel M. Prentice, Mr. Noyes, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Eches, and Mrs. T. J. T. Van Starcken-Pendall, who had a party at one of the tables.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elliott, Miss Janet Elliott, Mrs. and Mrs. Christopher Porter, Miss Priscilla White, the Misses Jencks of Baltimore, Mr. William Prescott, Johnker, and Mrs. T. J. T. Van Starcken-Pendall, Dr. and Mrs. Van H. Manning, Miss Stevens, Mr. Van H. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burr, Miss Katie L. Howe, Miss Sarah Willard Howe, Judge Martin A. Knapp, Paymaster General Samuel McGowan, Mr. William Bowie Clark, Mr. Ralph Hill, Ensign Howard Pater, Myron Parker, Jr., Mr. Herbert C. Henderson, Sgt. J. L. Edwards, Mr. Charles M. Remey, Mr. Cuthbert Brown, Capt. C. C. Calhoun, Col. Edward Ray, Capt. Lieut. P. Simpson, Mr. Richard Daniel.

Mrs. W. F. Bremner wore a Byzantine priest costume, designed by Lieut. Lancelot Suckert, U. S. A., now in France, consisting of cassock and head-dress of artistic design.

Mr. William Eric Fowler entertained a large box party, his guests including the first secretary of the Mexican embassy and Mme. de Rojo, Miss Bonillas, Miss Carolina de Pena, Miss Urie, Miss Morel, Miss Exchequer, Miss Ramona E. Lefevre, Miss Espinosa, Mr. J. E. Lefevre, Mr. Baron Hall and Col. Horton.

Miss Dorothy Berthoff went as a kypsy, in a varicolored costume and small red cap. Mrs. Lawrence Townsend wore a handsome gown of black velvet, with a tall headdress of black feathers. Miss Ethel Hickey, pink satin and tulle.

The Panama minister and Mme. Porras, Miss Mary Veeder, Robert Elmore, the Duke de Sangro, Dr. and Mrs. Cary Grayson, Miss May Adams, Viscount de Sibour, George Howard, Dr. Rivas, Miss Nana Gordon Jones, Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Barton, Mr. and Mrs. Reeve Lewis, Mrs. J. Eakin Gadsby, Miss Sarah Hickling, Misses Hickey, Misses and Mrs. Reginald Walker, Mr. and Mrs. William McClellan, Ritter, Miss Emily Chase, Captain and Mrs. Barbier of the Belgian legation, Miss Elizabeth Shumate, Robert Hazehurst McAdoo, Miss Gwen-dolyn Denys, the Misses Beach, N. Constantini of the Greek legation, Mr. and Mrs. Pickler and Miss Nannie Chase.

The camoufage ball of last night having been such a brilliant success, and the decorations, claret, the executive committee of Neighborhood House, composed of Miss Sophie Selmer, president; Mrs. Christian D. Hentz, Mrs. and Mrs. John W. Thompson, Mr. Francis J. Kernan, have decided to give a ball in the ballrooms at the Willard, from 8 to 6, for the same benefit.

The French ambassador and Mme. Jusserand, who went to New York for the Pilgrim Society's banquet Tuesday evening, returned last night.

A large party of Washington girls, chaperoned by Mrs. George Barnett, Elkins and Mrs. Henry Crosson, will go to Quantico this afternoon, where they will be entertained by a number of officers at a tea dance, followed by dinner, a play and a dance. They will reach Quantico in time to witness the presentation of the colors to the 11th Regiment.

Among those in the party will be Miss Mary Duncan Gibson, Miss Cecelia McCallum, Miss Minna Blair, Miss Adelaide Tuttle, Miss Margaret Tuttle, Miss Louise Thayer, Miss Frances Wilkinson, Miss Elizabeth Stevenson, Miss Jean Rayner, Miss Priscilla White, Miss Katharine Hinkley, Miss Helen Claxton, Miss Minnie Ball Moore, Miss Ruth Donaldson, Miss Reeves Harris, Miss Margaret Devereaux, the Misses Gordon, Miss Davyette Bicklen, Miss Virginia Maxwell, Miss Abigail Harvey, Miss Grace Beach, Miss Katherine Beach, Miss Emma Smith, Miss Sims, Miss Merritt, Miss Virginia Sutherland, Miss Mary House, Miss Patricia Fullin, Miss Blaine, Blaine Beach, Miss Pamela Henry, Miss Hildred, Miss Hilary Hill, Miss Elizabeth Hill, Miss Margaret Cain, Miss Elizabeth Koonce, Miss Margaret Austin, Miss Cecile Cook, Miss Edith Lester, Miss Kathleen Lester, Miss Grace Overman, Miss Helen Claxton, Miss Edith Barry, Miss Elizabeth Burnett, Miss Miriam Hubbard, Miss Teresa James, Miss Phoebe Walker, Miss Julia Mattie, Miss Anne Hopkins, Miss Mary Brown, Miss Sallie Beecher, Miss Mary Jones, Miss Tucker, Miss Elizabeth Hamilton and Miss Harriet Peckham.

Following their custom of having different phases of war work put before the members of the organization, the League of American Women will be the first to turn this Friday into Signal Corps day.

Miss Mary B. Adams, mauve and silver brocade chiffon.

Miss Suzanne Chase, black tulle with a circle of narrow white, white charmeuse with insets of gold lace.

Miss Suzanne Chase, black tulle with a circle of narrow white, white charmeuse with insets of gold lace.

Miss Reeves Harris, black satin and tulle.

Miss Frances Carpenter wore an effective kypsy costume.

Miss Leslie Murray of New York wore a lovely gown of marine blue tulle.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles H. Hight, the latter wearing a handsome gown of pink chiffon with crystal embroidery.

Miss Cecile Barry, an American beauty gown, with an overdress of silver net.

Mrs. Ashton Todd was in a black lace gown over lavender satin, with diamond ornaments.

Miss Irene McGuire, an Egyptian costume of silver cloth.

Miss Margaret Shedy of Denver, Col., black net over cloth of silver.

Miss Martha Fitzpatrick wore a beautiful gown of iridescent charmeuse embroidered in pearls.

Mrs. Henry Churchill Cook, blue brocade satin combined with black velvet and trimmed with duchess point lace.

Among others present were: Mr. and Mrs. Theodore W. Noyes, Miss Claire Ellsworth of New York, Dr. and Mrs. Ralph Walker, Mrs. Mabel M. Prentice, Mr. Noyes, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Eches, and Mrs. T. J. T. Van Starcken-Pendall, who had a party at one of the tables.

Mrs. and Mrs. Charles Warren, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Elliott, Miss Janet Elliott, Mrs. and Mrs. Christopher Porter, Miss Priscilla White, the Misses Jencks of Baltimore, Mr. William Prescott, Johnker, and Mrs. T. J. T. Van Starcken-Pendall, Dr. and Mrs. Van H. Manning, Miss Stevens, Mr. Van H. Manning, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Burr, Miss Katie L. Howe, Miss Sarah Willard Howe, Judge Martin A. Knapp, Paymaster General Samuel McGowan, Mr. William Bowie Clark, Mr. Ralph Hill, Ensign Howard Pater, Myron Parker, Jr., Mr. Herbert C. Henderson, Sgt. J. L. Edwards, Mr. Charles M. Remey, Mr. Cuthbert Brown, Capt. C. C. Calhoun, Col. Edward Ray, Capt. Lieut. P. Simpson, Mr. Richard Daniel.

Mrs. W. F. Bremner wore a Byzantine priest costume, designed by Lieut. Lancelot Suckert, U. S. A., now in France, consisting of cassock and head-dress of artistic design.

Mr. William Eric Fowler entertained a large box party, his guests including the first secretary of the Mexican embassy and Mme. de Rojo, Miss Bonillas, Miss Carolina de Pena, Miss Urie, Miss Morel, Miss Exchequer, Miss Ramona E. Lefevre, Miss Espinosa, Mr. J. E. Lefevre, Mr. Baron Hall and Col. Horton.

Miss Dorothy Berthoff went as a kypsy, in a varicolored costume and small red cap. Mrs. Lawrence Townsend wore a handsome gown of black velvet, with a tall headdress of black feathers. Miss Ethel Hickey, pink satin and tulle.

The Panama minister and Mme. Porras, Miss Mary Veeder, Robert Elmore, the Duke de Sangro, Dr. and Mrs. Cary Grayson, Miss May Adams, Viscount de Sibour, George Howard, Dr. Rivas, Miss Nana Gordon Jones, Mrs. and Mrs. Fred Barton, Mr. and Mrs. Reeve Lewis, Mrs. J. Eakin Gadsby, Miss Sarah Hickling, Misses Hickey, Misses and Mrs. Reginald Walker, Mr. and Mrs. William McClellan, Ritter, Miss Emily Chase, Captain and Mrs. Barbier of the Belgian legation, Miss Elizabeth Shumate, Robert Hazehurst McAdoo, Miss Gwen-dolyn Denys, the Misses Beach, N. Constantini of the Greek legation, Mr. and Mrs. Pickler and Miss Nannie Chase.

The camoufage ball of last night having been such a brilliant success, and the decorations, claret, the executive committee of Neighborhood House, composed of Miss Sophie Selmer, president; Mrs. Christian D. Hentz, Mrs. and Mrs. John W. Thompson, Mr. Francis J. Kernan, have decided to give a ball in the ballrooms at the Willard, from 8 to 6, for the same benefit.

The French ambassador and Mme. Jusserand, who went to New York for the Pilgrim Society's banquet Tuesday evening, returned last night.

A large party of Washington girls, chaperoned by Mrs. George Barnett, Elkins and Mrs. Henry Crosson, will go to Quantico this afternoon, where they will be entertained by a number of officers at a tea dance, followed by dinner, a play and a dance. They will reach Quantico in time to witness the presentation of the colors to the 11th Regiment.

velvet, with a tall headdress of black feathers. Miss Ethel Hickey, pink satin and tulle.